

HOLLAND PARK SCHOOL SIXTH FORM | LATIN

Examination Board
OCR
Topics/ Texts Studied
Cicero (Pro Caelio), Virgil (Aeneid)
Coursework and Practical Elements
No coursework
Recommended Pre-reading
Homer's Iliad and Virgil's Aeneid (in translation).
Where will this course take me?
The study of Classics develops and demonstrates skill in all areas of the humanities, and is as solid a foundation as one could desire for entering professions such as law, consulting, the Civil Service, journalism, and many more.
Why should you study this course?
If it weren't worth it, we wouldn't still be doing it! Challenge your mind with the demands of reading complex, real Latin, gain a grounding in political thinking and persuasive language, and dive into some of the most fascinating, rich, humorous, energetic, and influential poetry ever written.
What are the entry requirements?
In addition to the general entry requirements, you will need a grade 7 or above in GCSE Latin to study this course.